The War Today..

By DeWitt MacKenzie
AP War Analyst

ONE of the most unusual questions our column has encountered is submitted by a distinguished citizen who asks: "There are a lot of folk, including myself, who deeply regret that when this war is over there still be Germans left alive. However, there are others who chide us for this feeling. Will you please explain why we are wrong?"

My first impulse was to decline to discuss the matter, on the ground that I might say something which would incriminate me. Also, who am I to deprive any man of such regrets, any more than I would deprive my Scotch of his traditional right to one bite? However, the question is worth consideration, since presumably it has run through most minds.

One can say that the regret expressed is understandable. This understanding is fortified when we read of such current horrors as the German atrocities at the Gardelegen, Buchenwald and other concentration camps—savagery which is mild compared with the wholesale tortures and massacres carried out by German troops in Russia and Poland. (Let's not overlook the long line of Jap barbarities, the latest of which is the Manila butchery, just made public by the U. S. War Department.)

The Germans who have been responsible for such atrocities and for any other war guilt, including the launching of a war of aggression, must pay the penalty. That's one of the chief aims proclaimed by the Allies.

I'll go further and say it would be a blessing to humanity if some catastrophe should destroy the entire Prussian race. It's Prussian militarism which for generations has tortured the world with the aggression that has developed the experience of Nazism.

All Germans must stand responsible morally for the Hitlerian crimes, since the people at least have condoned his evil. However, the Allied governments, and particularly the Russians, have differentiated between the actual war criminals and the mass of the Germans who seemingly haven't been involved in war crimes.

It's only recently that, by way of explaining unconditional surrender, Allied airmen distributed pamphlets over the Reich, saying "individual Germans who had nothing to do with crimes committed by the war criminals will not be taken to account for those crimes." The Germans also have been assured that "it is the wish of the Allies to give the German people the possibility for normal, peaceful development as members of the European family of nations."

Demand For Retention of Islands Marks Hearing On Navy Bill

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Demands for postwar retention by the United States of Japanese islands in the Pacific overshadowed house debate today on a $24,879,510.546 Navy appropriation bill.

Slated for unopposed passage late in the day, the supply bill to provide funds for the fiscal year starting July 1 received scant attention in the clamor for steps to take over without restriction such Pacific outposts as the Marshall and Caroline islands, Iwo Jima, Saipan and Okinawa.

Until United States forces moved in, the Japanese owned or held under League of Nations mandate all these islands. They are strategically situated for military control of the Pacific.

Members of the appropriations committee handling naval funds said privately the turn of house debate would strengthen the position of Navy officials when the time comes to determine what shall be done with the islands. These officials, they said, expressed their view during closed hearings on the appropriation bill that the United States should keep the islands.

The house applauded vigorously yesterday when Rep. Wadsworth of New York, high ranking Republican on the Foreign Affairs committee, declared the United States "must occupy and hold strategic points in the Pacific to discharge what he termed this country's responsibility to keep peace in the Pacific as 'the most trusted nation.'"

County Nutrition Group Hears Miss Dowler Talk

Miss Flora Dowler of Pittsburgh, discussed "School Lunches" at a meeting of the Columbiana County Nutrition council of the Red Cross held last night in the Memorial building. She pointed out that half of the canned food of the country and 3,400,000,000 quarts of vegetables were produced by homemakers in victory gardens. The speaker emphasized that even more will have to be produced this year because of the food shortage.

The council planned for its summer work. A dinner preceded the meeting.

Representatives from Hancock county, W. Va., East Liverpool, Alliance, Canton, Wellsville and Lisbon attended. The May meeting will be held in East Liverpool.

POLISH AIDING RUSSIANS IN BERLIN DRIVE

Allied Announcement Indicates Crossing of Oder, Neisse Rivers

(BULLETIN)

(By Associated Press)

The Warsaw radio announced today that Polish forces, fighting beside the Red army, crossed the Oder and Neisse rivers Monday, and "are now taking part in the great offensive on Berlin." This was the first official announcement from the Allied side of the crossing of the Oder. The broadcast was recorded by the FCC.

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, April 19.—The Russians have captured Seelow and Wriezen and advanced to within 18 miles of the eastern limits of Berlin, a Transocean broadcast announced today.

Reporting a series of deep penetrations in the four-day old Russian offensive by 2,500,000 Soviet soldiers, Berlin radio announcements said Forst, a Neisse river stronghold 65 miles southeast of Berlin, also had fallen.

Transocean's correspondent, Karl Bluecher, broadcast "the battle for Berlin in the east is approaching its climax."

He said the Russians were but four kilometers northeast of Muencheberg, or about 18 miles east of Berlin's city limits, and were east of Buckow, also 18 miles east of Berlin.

"Deep but narrow" penetrations had been made from the Russian bridgeheads along the Neisse, he said, so that the Russians were now due south of Cottbus, Spree river stronghold 55 miles southeast of Berlin.

Other Spearheads were due south of Spremberg, 13 miles south of Cottbus and 69 miles southeast of Berlin, and east of Bautzen, but 40 miles from American positions north of Chemnitz.

CABINET CHANGES ARE IN OFFING

BY JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Some members of the Roosevelt cabinet are on the way out, and close friends suggested today that one or more new department heads may be named by President Truman within days.

Most of them pointed to the Labor department, which Secretary Perkins undoubtedly would like to leave as soon as she gracefully can. Most mentioned as a possible successor is Sen. Harley Kilgore (D-W. Va.), who is satisfactory to the CIO and also has worked with the AFL.

In the agriculture setup Secretary Wickard is slated to step out in favor of a new man who may take over the duties of war food administrator as well.

Marvin Jones, who fills the latter post, told friends recently he would like to go back to the court of claims.

J. P. Hutson, deputy in charge of agricultural reconversion in the War Mobilization Office, might be Mr. Truman's choice for the enlarged agriculture portfolio.

When former War Mobilizer James F. Byrnes reappears in government service, it probably will be as secretary of state, succeeding Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., who may become the American representative in the proposed world security organization.

President Harry Truman hasn't far to go to his office in the White House. It's across the street on Pennsylvania ave., from the Blair House, where he and the First Family are staying until Mrs. Roosevelt has had time to move from the executive mansion. Here the President is seen, flanked by secret service men, halting traffic momentarily, as he crosses the street.

POLICE TO CHECK BRAKES ON SALEM MOTORISTS' CARS

A concerted drive, in which brakes on Salem motorists' cars will be checked by city police, is planned to assure Salem of safer driving conditions. Chief of Police Ralph Stoffer announced today.

From now until June 1 local motorists may expect to be stopped by police for brake inspection. Cars with safe brakes will be issued a yellow certificate for the windshield and those on which the brakes are found to be faulty will be recorded and checked later for repair.

The survey, conducted here as a part of a state-wide drive by the Ohio Association of Chiefs of Police, is geared to make certain automobiles on the road in war time are properly equipped for safe driving.

"Old cars on the road in greater numbers than ever before make driving more and more dangerous these days," Chief Stoffer said, "and unless we make an attempt to curb the causes of accidents, conditions may become more serious."

The actual brake check will be made by placing a one inch block of wood on the floor of the car beneath the brake pedal. The pedal will then be pressed downward and if it strikes the wood the brakes on the car are considered insufficient for safe operation, the chief explained.

The motorist whose car is judged improperly protected will be instructed by police to have his brakes repaired and reappear for a second examination.

Chief Stoffer asks the cooperation of Salem people in the drive. "If you want to avoid being stopped on the street," the chief said, "drop in at city hall and ask for a check. We will be glad to do it that way and will issue the sticker to avoid stopping the same car later."

MERCURY SLIDES TO 27 OVERNIGHT

Temperatures slipped below the freezing mark in many Ohio cities last night as an unseasonal drop caused widespread fears of crop damage and set Ohioans to restocking their furnaces.

Although temperatures in Salem dropped to a low of 27 during the night and the thermometers read 29 at 6 a. m. today, little frost damage resulted in the district.

W. H. Matthews, Salem orchardist, said today that the mercury wasn't low enough for a long enough time to do any damage last night.

The state agriculture department said there were no immediate reports as to extent of damage, but added there was little frost because of high winds which accompanied the lowering temperatures.

Wheat farmers, said the department, were apprehensive as to whether their crops were "stemmed" sufficiently to be vulnerable to freezing weather. Most fruit orchards were believed to have weathered the night in good shape.

Thermometers in Toledo registered as low as 29, the U. S. Weather Bureau reported. Other cities in which the mercury slid below the 32-degree freezing point were Akron, Cincinnati, Columbus and Dayton. Cleveland's low temperature was 32.

1,482 DIE IN OKINAWA FIGHT

Total Casualties Placed At 7,988; Death Toll of Japs 9,108

(By Associated Press)

GUAM, April 19.—American Navy, Army and Marine casualties of 7,988 in the Okinawa campaign were reported by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz today, as U. S. Marines overran the northern end of that island and doughboys virtually ended the conquest of Ie Islet offshore.

The casualty toll, as of yesterday, was 1,482 dead, 4,750 wounded and 1,756 missing. This dated back to March 18.

Japanese dead in the ground fighting on Okinawa alone were 9,108 killed and 391 made prisoner, counted up to midnight last Friday. Considerable heavy fighting has been in progress since then.

Naval casualties of 4,700 for this action exceeded those of the Army and the Marines for the first time in the Pacific war. The 1,400-ship invasion armada for days under heavy Japanese air attack, including crash dives by Kamikaze (suicide) pilots. Four U. S. destroyers were acknowledged sunk and other fleet units were damaged.

Tokyo radio made the unsubstantiated claim today that 393 "enemy" warships had been sunk or damaged by Kamikaze fliers since March 23.

Nimitz' casualty figures compared with U. S. Marine casualties of 19,938 on Iwo Jima.

Tenth army figures included those for the invasion of eight Kerama islands off the southern tip of Okinawa, itself and Ie island.

Tired doughboys on southern Okinawa still were trying to crack the "little Siegfried line," four miles north of the capital city of Naha.

PUBLIC LIBRARY HAS CIRCULATION GAIN DURING YEAR

During this year of world events the Salem public library has proved its place in the community with circulation showing a gain over the previous year. Sixty-one thousand, one hundred and two books were circulated, a gain of 43 over last year.

The largest daily circulation—481—was on Feb. 23, while the daily average was 200. This is revealed in the annual report of Miss Alice Gladden, librarian, made public today.

To keep the borrowers' file active and up-to-date, a re-registration began on May 1. To date the library has had 947 new borrowers and 383 re-registered. Borrowers at present total 4,727. A registration period covers three years.

The reference room has been serving the public with numerous and varied requests, the librarian points out. The pamphlet file, picture collection and periodical index supplement the fine book collection.

A total of 1,784 reference questions are on record, while many references have been answered by telephone. At least 1,597 persons used the room for study.

The best in current magazines and daily newspapers are to be found in the reading room. The war has had its effect on this department of the library. "We miss those who used to be regular visitors to this room," she said. Readers for the year total 3,789.

The children's room is growing in popularity with children and teachers. Book Week and all special holidays are observed and individual service is given when possible. The circulation of 22,749 books from this department shows a gain of 3,272 over last year.

Sixty-five meetings were held in the assembly room during the year. Four study clubs hold regular meetings there and others use the room for occasional meetings.

A new service rendered by the library is a weekly visit to the City hospital with a book truck of reading matter for the patients. This service began Oct. 30 and is popular with the patients.

Mrs. Blanche Lease, after 25 years of service, retired last June. She was succeeded by Mrs. H. B. Vincent. This was the only change in the staff.

Ruhr Pockets Are Erased By Yankees

By JAMES M. LONG

PARIS, April 19.—The First army has captured Leipzig, fifth city of Germany, and with the Ninth army seized all of the great Ruhr pocket in perhaps the greatest victory of the war.

Britons on the north flank closed within six miles and sight of the greatest continental port of Hamburg. They reached the lower Elbe river on a 20-mile front.

Just to the south, a thousand Germans with 20 tanks struck out from the British sector and drove three to 15 miles into the rear area of the Ninth army west of captured Stendal. They were engaged by cavalry forces. The toray was isolated and the Germans appeared to be trying to slip through the Ninth army's Ruhr area into the besieged Harz mountain pocket, southwest of the Ninth army's five-mile deep bridgehead within 52 miles of Berlin.

Seventh army divisions were fighting hard for Nuernberg, Dessau and Halle were falling.

Supreme headquarters corrected an earlier statement that the Americans had fought to the center of Nuernberg, saying late in the day that actually the Third and 45th divisions had linked up outside the city.

The Third army was driving into Czechoslovakia within gunshot of Asch, after bisecting Germany Geographically, cutting routes into the Nazis hideaway in the Bavarian Alps.

Nuernberg Encircled

Other Americans fought SS troops through the streets on the Bavarian Nazi center of Nuernberg, now virtually surrounded.

The British reached the lower Elbe, last river before Berlin, and advanced to within 16 miles of Hamburg in an effort to cut the North sea ports from Berlin, beleaguered by Russian troops reported 17 miles east and Americans 45 miles west. The siege of Bremen was intensified.

"All organized resistance in the Ruhr pocket has ceased and Allied forces have virtually completed mopping up the last enemy stragglers," Supreme headquarters announced.

This meant the great cities of Duesseldorf (539,000), Solingen (138,587), Remscheid (103,437) and Barmen (165,100) were in first and Ninth army hands along with the Great Ruhr factories.

Gen. Omar Bradley said 316,930 Germans were taken from the Ruhr pocket and that more remained to be counted. This compared with 330,000 Germans captured and killed at Stalingrad, greatest previous German disaster.

Campaign Phase Ended

One phase of the German campaign is finished and "it is necessary to pause temporarily before we go into the next," Bradley said.

The last strongholds in Leipzig, including its city hall, were cracked this morning and infantrymen were ferreting out the last sniper. More than 20,000 prisoners and a thousand 88-millimeter guns have been captured in or near the city.

The final German stands were made near a statue of Napoleon in the southeast part of the city, at the railroad station and in the city hall.

Leipzig and its ruins swarmed with a population of a million Germans. It fell at 7 p. m. last night. It was the fifth city of Germany.

Infantry of the Fighting 69th and the Indian Head (2nd) divisions met in the center of Leipzig.

It was estimated that three fourths of Leipzig was in ruins.

Other cities fell.

In captured Magdeburg, the Ninth army seized a bank containing the equivalent of $70,000,000 in Nazi money, plus great art treasures.

Public Opinion and Peace

In the United States, public opinion has been prepared for the convening of the San Francisco conference by an earnest program of education. The results are visible chiefly in the suspense with which the event is being awaited.

Public opinion in this country needs no special conditioning to make it unanimous for peace. It has needed and still needs a great deal of conditioning before the prospect of peace is any brighter because of America's contribution.

Specifically, the people of the United States and their officials in government need to know that peace cannot be secured by a merely favorable attitude. It is a dynamic project—something vastly more than the absence of war, which may signify only an uneasy truce as it did from 1918 to 1939.

If this realization has emerged from preparations to bolster plans for cooperative security in the era after World War II, America is ready for the San Francisco conference. It will have a contribution to make. If its contribution is matched by similar contributions from the Soviet Union and Great Britain, there can be an era of peace. If the three major powers also can come to share a realization that an era of peace without justice would be a poor bargain and inevitably would become the overture to another great war, there can be an era of constructive peace, offering reasonable assurance of the ultimate pacification of the world.

San Francisco can be either the beginning of security or the end of the vision of security, depending on whether the nations represented there really want peace earnestly enough to work for it as hard as they are willing to work to win the wars that disturb the peace.

Completion of a Triumph

American production and use of the airplane is the nation's most dramatic war triumph. More than any other single weapon forged in the American arsenal, it broke Germany's back.

Almost without notice, the air war over Europe has moved into its last stage. The German Luftwaffe is declared officially to retain only nuisance value. In one day's operation, more than 1,000 German planes were knocked out. The total for the first 16 days of April was 3,699 German planes against Allied losses of 485. The strategic bombing program has been finished; all equipment now is available for tactical bombing. All signs point to the completion of the triumph against Germany's carefully prepared bid for aerial supremacy. In reality, there have been two triumphs—one in the west, another by the Russians in the east, where Germans were bested in what they believed was their prime specialty, the airplane used in support of ground troops.

The United States has no wish to claim too much, but Americans would be foolish to claim too little. We have provided the bulk of Allied air power and the diverse models that have plagued German strategists by their adaptability to special uses. We have borrowed ideas freely from our allies and certainly they have borrowed freely in turn. But as the war in Europe shudders to its close, American planes, American pilots and American techniques have become synonymous with modern air power. It is the nation's greatest heritage from the necessities of World War II; America has mastered the air.

The Point Is Debatable

The capture of Kaiser Wilhelm's widow, the Empress Hermine, suggests the close connection between World War I and World War II, which is a useful thing to remember on the eve of peace, and it is useful for another reason.

The former empress of Germany, more a bystander than a belligerent in her country's latest eruption of violence, has been quoted widely in the American press on a debatable point—the last-ditch resistance of her countrymen in a war already lost. She thinks it is admirable. Allied opinion runs, of course, to the contrary. But Allied opinion on this matter might be wrong in the long view.

Germany's last-ditch resistance may serve a historic purpose of first-rate importance. It may eliminate for all time the notion that Germany was robbed of fulfillment of its nationalist dreams by failure to play out the string. That was Hitler's great talking point in preparation for the recrudescence of German militarism—that this time no bets would be overlooked and world domination, therefore, could be guaranteed in advance.

When the war finally ends, with German manpower exhausted, German cities ruined and foreign armies occupying German soil, there should be no more possibility of another recrudescence of German militarism than there was after the destruction of Carthage. The Carthaginians, too, were admirable for their fighting ability, but not for their wisdom in bringing ruin on the city-state in whose name they fought.

No. 32

Inquiries reveal that there is widespread confusion about Harry S. Truman's proper number in the list of United States presidents. Perhaps the inquiries are one more sign of that haphazard knowledge of American history which some of our conscientious universities are resolved to overcome, if possible. For example, a subscriber who argues that Franklin D. Roosevelt was the 32nd president and proves it with a list of 31 predecessors, including Benjamin Franklin, hardly testifies to a thorough grounding in national history.

President Truman is the 32nd man to be chief executive of the United States. Confusion on this point began with Grover Cleveland's two administrations, separated by the administration of Benjamin Harrison. If the Cleveland administrations are counted separately, there have been 33 administrations, but only 32 presidents. An interesting detail is the fact that 72 years elapsed between George Washington's and Abraham Lincoln's inaugurations, with Lincoln being the 16th president. From his death in 1865 to Franklin D. Roosevelt's death in 1945 was exactly 80 years from the 16th president to the 32nd.

The Stars Say

For Friday, April 20

THE LUNAR aspects are indicative of splendid energies of the intellectual, creative, inventive, scientific or inner powers and forces, on this day, rather than purely practical and workaday routines. It might be desirable to put into execution all involving changed tactics, new ways and means as applied to old problems, or to call on intuition, sudden urges and inner leads, rather than prosaic, although there should be no radical departure from sane and balanced reasoning. Dare to be original but play safe. The emotions are under similar stress for daring, romance, adventure and change.

Those whose birthday it is are under excellent stimuli for accomplishing new daring or original ends or ambitions by the use of exceptional ideas, inventive, scientific or creative energy and ingenuity rather than commonplace formulas, rules and regulations. The inner urges may have outstanding expression provided the accepted codes be reasonably and rationally conformed to. Intellect, art, magnetism, culture are factors bringing surprising benefits in professional as well as emotional life. There may be sudden changes.

A child born on this day will be endowed with unusual creative talents, skills and ingenuity, and should make surprising success in cultural, thrilling or romantic lines.

There's not much hope held out for the Jap navy—with its continual sinking spells.

There would be fewer day dreamers if there was a way of taxing a man's yearnings.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Common Digestive Disorders

By HERMAN N. BUNDSEN, M. D.

MORE and more people are learning about stomach ulcers. What many of them do not seem to know is that in adults over thirty-five years of age, ulcers of the stomach and first part of the bowel are responsible for one-third of all the deaths occurring from diseases of the stomach and intestine.

It is well to remember that patients who have ulcers are high strung, nervous, worried and inwardly tense. They do not relax, even when they are sleeping. Stress and strain may cause changes in the stomach which lead to the development of the ulcers.

Recr In Fall, Spring

Ulcers tend to recur in the spring and fall—just why is not known. It is a fact, however, according to Dr. Andrew C. Ivy of Chicago, that caffeine-containing beverages, such as coffee and others, stimulate the formation of acid in the stomach, and hence should be limited in the diets of persons who are suffering or who tend to suffer from ulcers.

Another common disease of the digestive tract is cancer affecting the stomach, liver and gall-bladder. This type of cancer makes up about one-third of all cancers.

Statistics have shown that in most instances, symptoms occur in patients with such cancers only about six months before they come for an examination and less than a year before a diagnosis is made. In more than half of the cases stomach cancers have spread beyond the stomach when the first symptoms are noted.

These facts about ulcers and cancers affecting the gastro-intestinal tract indicate the great need for regular and frequent examinations by a physician of persons over 35 years of age. If possible, X-rays should be taken at each of these examinations. If X-rays cannot be taken, careful physical examination and laboratory tests should be carried out. It is only by early detection that ulcers and cancers can be effectively treated.

Liver Disease

Cirrhosis of the liver is another of the disorders which Dr. Ivy believes will increase during the next 20 years because of the excessive consumption of alcoholic beverages by many people, exposure of a large number of people to the dangers of industry, and the necessary use of certain drugs in the armed forces which have a harmful effect on the liver.

Thus it may be seen that not only are there a number of disorders which may affect the digestive organs, but also that many of these conditions are serious and require extensive treatment. More and more the need for routine physical examinations is brought out by the discovery of the causes for chronic disorders which, when untreated, will shorten life.

Tomorrow, "Subacute Bacterial Endocarditis."

Public Opinion and Peace

In the United States, public opinion has been prepared for the convening of the San Francisco conference by an earnest program of education. The results are visible chiefly in the suspense with which the event is being awaited.

Public opinion in this country needs no special conditioning to make it unanimous for peace. It has needed and still needs a great deal of conditioning before the prospect of peace is any brighter because of America's contribution.

Specifically, the people of the United States and their officials in government need to know that peace cannot be secured by a merely favorable attitude. It is a dynamic project—something vastly more than the absence of war, which may signify only an uneasy truce as it did from 1918 to 1939.

If this realization has emerged from preparations to bolster plans for cooperative security in the era after World War II, America is ready for the San Francisco conference. It will have a contribution to make. If its contribution is matched by similar contributions from the Soviet Union and Great Britain, there can be an era of peace. If the three major powers also can come to share a realization that an era of peace without justice would be a poor bargain and inevitably would become the overture to another great war, there can be an era of constructive peace, offering reasonable assurance of the ultimate pacification of the world.

San Francisco can be either the beginning of security or the end of the vision of security, depending on whether the nations represented there really want peace earnestly enough to work for it as hard as they are willing to work to win the wars that disturb the peace.

Completion of a Triumph

American production and use of the airplane is the nation's most dramatic war triumph. More than any other single weapon forged in the American arsenal, it broke Germany's back.

Almost without notice, the air war over Europe has moved into its last stage. The German Luftwaffe is declared officially to retain only nuisance value. In one day's operation, more than 1,000 German planes were knocked out. The total for the first 16 days of April was 3,699 German planes against Allied losses of 485. The strategic bombing program has been finished; all equipment now is available for tactical bombing. All signs point to the completion of the triumph against Germany's carefully prepared bid for aerial supremacy. In reality, there have been two triumphs—one in the west, another by the Russians in the east, where Germans were bested in what they believed was their prime specialty, the airplane used in support of ground troops.

The United States has no wish to claim too much, but Americans would be foolish to claim too little. We have provided the bulk of Allied air power and the diverse models that have plagued German strategists by their adaptability to special uses. We have borrowed ideas freely from our allies and certainly they have borrowed freely in turn. But as the war in Europe shudders to its close, American planes, American pilots and American techniques have become synonymous with modern air power. It is the nation's greatest heritage from the necessities of World War II; America has mastered the air.

The Point Is Debatable

The capture of Kaiser Wilhelm's widow, the Empress Hermine, suggests the close connection between World War I and World War II, which is a useful thing to remember on the eve of peace, and it is useful for another reason.

The former empress of Germany, more a bystander than a belligerent in her country's latest eruption of violence, has been quoted widely in the American press on a debatable point—the last-ditch resistance of her countrymen in a war already lost. She thinks it is admirable. Allied opinion runs, of course, to the contrary. But Allied opinion on this matter might be wrong in the long view.

Germany's last-ditch resistance may serve a historic purpose of first-rate importance. It may eliminate for all time the notion that Germany was robbed of fulfillment of its nationalist dreams by failure to play out the string. That was Hitler's great talking point in preparation for the recrudescence of German militarism—that this time no bets would be overlooked and world domination, therefore, could be guaranteed in advance.

When the war finally ends, with German manpower exhausted, German cities ruined and foreign armies occupying German soil, there should be no more possibility of another recrudescence of German militarism than there was after the destruction of Carthage. The Carthaginians, too, were admirable for their fighting ability, but not for their wisdom in bringing ruin on the city-state in whose name they fought.

No. 32

Inquiries reveal that there is widespread confusion about Harry S. Truman's proper number in the list of United States presidents. Perhaps the inquiries are one more sign of that haphazard knowledge of American history which some of our conscientious universities are resolved to overcome, if possible. For example, a subscriber who argues that Franklin D. Roosevelt was the 32nd president and proves it with a list of 31 predecessors, including Benjamin Franklin, hardly testifies to a thorough grounding in national history.

President Truman is the 32nd man to be chief executive of the United States. Confusion on this point began with Grover Cleveland's two administrations, separated by the administration of Benjamin Harrison. If the Cleveland administrations are counted separately, there have been 33 administrations, but only 32 presidents. An interesting detail is the fact that 72 years elapsed between George Washington's and Abraham Lincoln's inauguration, with Lincoln being the 16th president. From his death in 1865 to Franklin D. Roosevelt's death in 1945 was exactly 80 years from the 16th president to the 32nd.

AN INVESTMENT IN GOOD APPEARANCE

THE AMERICAN HOUSE

By Virginia Chase

VIII
The transients just kept us going. My father was counting on the summer trade to get us out of the red. He decided to specialize in sea food, serving a real Shore Dinner every Sunday. Lobsters were abundant in our bay. Cod sold for three cents a pound and haddock four. You could buy clams, already shucked, for 15 cents a quart. It looked like a good thing.

SHORE DINNERS

Chowder
Fish—Clams—Lobsters
Excellent Food
All You Can Eat
Seventy-five Cents

On the following Saturday we began to get ready. There was the cleaning to do, the silver to polish, the butter to mold, the Bulk of Fare to print — we called them Bilafares — to say nothing of the cooking. None of us sat down a minute.

By Sunday all of us felt the strain. My father jumped every time the telephone rang. My mother kept scrutinizing the sky, though there wasn't a cloud in it. Sue was bossy. She was going to wait on table, and it had gone to her head completely. "Do this," she snapped. "Do that." Julia and I were sulking because we had to help in the kitchen. Mrs. Guptill was irritable. It wasn't the extra work that upset her, but the lavishness she saw about. The shelves lined with pies. Four long pans of rolls rising. Great heaps of doughnuts. Shortcakes in double layers. The big kettles ready for the chowder and lobsters.

The first car made its appearance just before 1 o'clock—a red Maxwell runabout with shining black cushions. It had two passengers, the driver and a woman whose face and head were swathed in a bright green veil. (Green was out on the eyes, so people said.) Benjamin helped the woman out, and Julia led her at once to the parlor.

The driver had no sooner taken off his goggles and his wind cuffs than five or six loafers gathered around.

"Another coming," someone called out.

We listened. Sure enough. Soon it appeared, a black, two-seated Packard with enormous headlights of polished brass.

One of its passengers rose and stepped out on the running board to give it balance while it made the curve. Then it pulled up behind the Maxwell. Five men, wearing dusters, leaped out in a light, springy way, though they were middle-aged and heavy. They shook hands with my father and the driver of the Maxwell.

"Some road,"
"Yes, siree."
"How are your brakes doing?"
"Fine. How are yours?"
"Jim dandy." The speaker stroked his car affectionately.

The sound of a horn interrupted them. Looking up we saw an automobile almost upon us. Yet there had been no chugging. No knocking. A tiny line of steam was appearing from below its body.

Julia poked me. "Look at the ladies," she hissed.

There were three of them in the back seat, wearing identical striped silk coats. But that wasn't all. They wore hoods and masks over their faces, and the masks were fitted with isinglass.

The White drew up behind the Packard. It was the first time three automobiles had ever been lined up together in our village. We were so impressed that for an instant no one spoke. Then my father said, "Good day," as befitted the occasion, and himself stepped forward to assist the ladies.

Julia and I together led them to the parlor. We went slowly, for they stumbled about a good deal on the stairs, not being able to see well indoors. Once there, we hung around, waiting to discover what was behind those ghoulish masks. . . . It was quite a surprise to see three normal faces. The lady who had come in the Maxwell was lying on the settee, resting from her journey. Driving was exhilarating, but it was hard on the back, they all agreed.

When the dinner bell rang, they hurried downstairs to join the men. Then they all crowded into the dining room.

At 4 Sue came down to the kitchen to tell us what was going on. One guest, she said, was dozing on the settee in the parlor. Some of the others were rocking on the piazza, not saying much. My father had taken the driver of the Packard up to his office for treatment. The party in the White were just about leaving. They had taken a bag of doughnuts to eat on the way. They would come back next Sunday, they had promised.

When everyone had gone, Julia and I went into the office where my mother was counting the money she had taken in. Her cheeks were flushed, and her eyes were beaming. "We're practically home," she said.

THE AMERICAN HOUSE

By Virginia Chase

THURSDAY

THIRTY transients just kept us going. My father was counting on the summer trade to get us out of the red. He decided to specialize in sea food, serving a real Shore Dinner every Sunday. Lobsters were abundant in our bay. Cod sold for three cents a pound and haddock for four. You could buy clams, already shucked, for 15 cents a quart. It shucked like a good thing.

Late in May he set Boshy to work building lobster traps and buoys. He himself wrote out notices and arranged them to be posted in all towns within a radius of 20 miles.

SHORE DINNERS

Chowder
Fish—Clams—Lobsters
Excellent Food
All You Can Eat
Seventy-five Cents

On the following Saturday we began to get ready. There was the cleaning to do, the silver to polish, the butter to mold, the Bills of Fare to print—we called them Bill-fares—to say nothing of the cooking. None of us sat down a minute.

By Sunday all of us felt the strain. My father jumped every time the telephone rang. My mother kept scrutinizing the sky, though there wasn't a cloud in it. Sue was bossy. She was going to wait on table, and it had gone to her head completely. "Do this," she snapped. "Do that." Julia and I were snipping because Mrs. Guphill was in the kitchen. Mrs. Guphill was irritable. It wasn't the extra work that upset her, but the lavishness she saw about. The shelves lined with pies. Four long pans of rolls rising. Great heaps of doughnuts. Shortcakes in double layers. The big kettles ready for the chowder and lobsters.

The first car made its appearance just before 1 o'clock—a red Maxwell runabout with shining black cushions. It had two passengers, the driver and a woman whose face and head were swathed in a bright green veil. (Green was easy on the eyes, so people said.) Benjamin helped the woman out, and Julia led her at once to the parlor.

The driver had no sooner taken off his goggles and his wind cuffs than five or six loafers gathered around.

"Another coming," someone called out.

We listened. Sure enough. Soon it appeared, a black, two-seated Packard with enormous headlights of polished brass.

One of its passengers rose and stepped out on the running board to give it balance while it made the curve. Then it pulled up behind the Maxwell. Five men, wearing dusters, leaped out in a light, springy way, though they were mid-aged and heavy. They shook hands with my father and the driver of the Maxwell.

"Some road,"
"Yes, sree,"
"How are your brakes doing?"
"Fine. How are yours?"
"Jim dandy." The speaker stroked his car affectionately.

The sound of a horn interrupted them. Looking up we saw an automobile almost upon us. Yet there had been no chugging. No knocking. A tiny line of steam was appearing from below its body.

"Julia poked me. Look at the ladies," she hissed.

There were three of them in the back seat, wearing identical striped silk coats. But that wasn't all. They wore hoods and masks over their faces, and the masks were fitted with isinglass.

The White drew up behind the Packard. It was the first time three automobiles had ever been lined up together in our village. We were so impressed that for an instant no one spoke. Then my father said, "Good day," as befitted the occasion, and himself stepped forward to assist the ladies.

Julia and I together led them to the parlor. We went slowly, for they stumbled about a good deal on the stairs, not being able to see well indoors. Once there, we hung around, waiting to discover what was behind those ghoulish masks.

It was quite a surprise to see three normal faces. The lady who had come in the Maxwell was lying on the settee, resting from her journey. Driving was exhilarating, but it was hard on the back, they all agreed.

When the dinner bell rang, they hurried downstairs to join the men. Then they all crowded into the dining room.

At 4 Sue came down to the kitchen to tell us what was going on. One guest, she said, was dozing on the settee in the parlor. Some of the others were rocking on the piazza, not saying much. From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

The Cuppers Have a Dream Come True

Dee and Jane Cuppers used to say that as soon as the children had flown the roost, they were going off together on a second honeymoon... take a trip... or rent an apartment in the city.

So after little Sue got married, I stopped in to say goodbye. Dee was sitting in his favorite chair before the fire, sipping a mellow glass of beer. And Jane was busy with her knitting, just as always. They looked about as restless as the tabby cat on the hearth.

"Jane and I figured," Dee explained, "that you couldn't beat being at home alone together, with our own things—talking and reading—enjoying my glass of beer, and Jane her buttermilk—living and letting live. I guess you can't beat home!"

From where I sit, Dee's had a better dream come true—the dream of peace and tolerance and understanding that we all are fighting for, and praying for, today.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

The Cuppers Have a Dream Come True

Dee and Jane Cuppers used to say that as soon as the children had flown the roost, they were going off together on a second honeymoon... take a trip... or rent an apartment in the city.

So after little Sue got married, I stopped in to say goodbye. Dee was sitting in his favorite chair before the fire, sipping a mellow glass of beer. And Jane was busy with her knitting, just as always. They looked about as restless as the tabby cat on the hearth.

"Jane and I figured," Dee explained, "that you couldn't beat being at home alone together, with our own things—talking and reading—enjoying my glass of beer, and Jane her buttermilk—living and letting live. I guess you can't beat home!"

From where I sit, Dee's had a better dream come true—the dream of peace and tolerance and understanding that we all are fighting for, and praying for, today.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, April 19.—Numerous recent stock market climbers to 8 year peaks were today forced by profit takers to seek lower levels. Dealings slackened at intervals after an active opening but expanded in the final hour. Losers of a point or more were in the majority near the close. Transfers were around 1,800,000 shares.

Ahead at intervals were Consolidated Vultee Aircraft, Lockheed, Johns-Manville, Schenley, Hiram Walker and Engineers Public Service. Lagraders included Chrysler, General Motors, Santa Fe, Great Northern, North American, Goodrich, Nash-Kelvinator, Dome Mines, Anaconda, Allied Chemical and International Harvester.

Chaplin's Affair With Joan Berry To Cost Him $100,000

LOS ANGELES, April 19.—Charlie Chaplin's love affair with red-haired Joan Berry will cost him, as matters stand today, more than $100,000.

The mercury-haired funnyman of the films was ordered by the Superior court yesterday to pay $75 a week for the support of Joan's 18-month-old daughter until she is 21.

A jury the day before ruled Chaplin is Baby Carol Ann's father.

The 56-year-old actor-producer was directed also to pay Joan's lawyers $5,000 in addition to a like fee he paid her previous counsel.

The $75 a week for Carol Ann is what he has been paying voluntarily since last June.

And there was $11,000 he handed over for medical care and other expenses pending adjudication after Joan, his movie-aspiring drama pupil, filed her paternity suit.

These sums do not include what it cost Chaplin to defend himself—successfully—against a federal Mann act indictment charging he took Joan to New York City and back for immoral reasons. The fee to his counsel in that case was rumored to be well up in five figures.

Joan's attorney in the paternity suit, Joseph Scott, told reporters, "I'm not satisfied," after yesterday's assessments against the Chaplin fortune.

He had argued that $75 a week is "a pauper's program for this child."

47,023 Casualties In Rhine Crossing

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 19.—The battle for the Rhine and crossing of the river in March cost U. S. army ground forces 47,023 casualties, Secretary of War Stimson reported today.

The March casualty figure included 6,214 killed, 35,443 wounded and 5,366 missing.

Since D-day last June, Stimson disclosed, American ground casualties on the Western front totaled 473,215 up to the end of March. Included are 79,795 killed, 334,919 wounded and 58,501 missing.

Stimson disclosed that Army casualties in all theaters have reached 813,870 on the basis of names compiled in Washington through April 7. Added to the Navy's losses of 98,608, this put aggregate casualties since Pearl Harbor at 912,478, an increase of 13,088 since last week's report.

Stimson said that while current casualties on the Western front are not yet available, they are "not high". He said more than 900,000 Germans were captured in April and the number of enemy killed and wounded has been high.

Since the landings in France last June, he added, Allied forces have taken well over 2,100,000 prisoners.

The War Today

By DeWitt MacKenzie

ganda chief, Georgif Alanandrov, recently declared:

"The Soviet government never has and does not have as its aim the extermination of the German people. This would be stupid and unthinkable. The Soviet people have never considered as one and the same the German population and the criminal Nazi clique ruling Germany."

The people as a whole will get their punishment in unconditional surrender, in occupation of their country by Allied troops for many years, in reparations for the damage their armies have done—and in the huge German casualty list and the destruction which war has brought.

I think we are entitled to hope that the German people may be reformed over a long period of intensive Allied tutelage. Anyway, it's an experiment the United Nations think worth trying.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, April 19.—Numerous recent stock market climbers to a year peaks were today forced by profit takers to seek lower levels.

Dealings slackened at intervals after an active opening but expanded in the final hour. Losers of a point or more were in the majority near the close. Transfers were around 1,800,000 shares.

Ahead at intervals were Consolidated Vultee Aircraft, Lockheed, Johns-Manville, Schenley, Hiram Walker and Engineers Public Service. Lagrards included Chrysler, General Motors, Santa Fe, Great Northern, North American, Goodrich, Nash-Kelvinator, Dome Mines, Anaconda, Allied Chemical and International Harvester.

Chaplin's Affair With Joan Berry To Cost Him $100,000

LOS ANGELES, April 19.—Charlie Chaplin's love affair with red-haired Joan Berry will cost him, as matters stand today, more than $100,000.

The mercury-haired funnyman of the films was ordered by the Superior court yesterday to pay $75 a week for the support of Joan's 18-month-old daughter until she is 21.

A jury the day before ruled Chaplin is Baby Carol Ann's father. The 56-year-old actor-producer was directed also to pay Joan's lawyers $5,000 in addition to a like fee he paid her previous counsel.

The $75 a week for Carol Ann is what he has been paying voluntarily since last June. And there was $11,000 he handed over for medical care and other expenses pending adjudication after Joan, his movie-aspiring drama pupil, filed her paternity suit.

These sums do not include what it cost Chaplin to defend himself—successfully—against a federal Mann act indictment charging he took Joan to New York City and back for immoral reasons. The fee to his counsel in that case was rumored to be well up in five figures.

Joan's attorney in the paternity suit, Joseph Scott, told reporters, "I'm not satisfied," after yesterday's assessments against the Chaplin fortune.

He had argued that $75 a week is "a pauper's program for this child."

47,023 Casualties In Rhine Crossing

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 19.—The battle for the Rhine and crossing of the river in March cost U. S. army ground forces 47,023 casualties, Secretary of War Stimson reported today.

The March casualty figure included 6,214 killed, 35,443 wounded and 5,366 missing.

Since D-day last June, Stimson disclosed, American ground casualties on the Western front totaled 473,215 up to the end of March. Included are 79,795 killed, 334,919 wounded and 58,501 missing.

Stimson disclosed that army casualties in all theaters have reached 813,870 on the basis of names compiled in Washington through April 7. Added to the Navy's losses of 98,668, this put aggregate casualties since Pearl Harbor at 912,478, an increase of 13,088 since last week's report.

Stimson said that while current casualties on the Western front are not yet available, they are "not high." He said more than 900,000 Germans were captured in April and the number of enemy killed and wounded has been high.

Since the landings in France last June, he added, Allied forces have taken well over 2,100,000 prisoners.

The War Today

By DeWitt MacKenzie

ganda chief, Georgif Alanandrov, recently declared:

"The Soviet government never has and does not have as its aim the extermination of the German people. This would be stupid and unthinkable. The Soviet people have never considered as one and the same the German population and the criminal Nazi clique ruling Germany."

The people as a whole will get their punishment in unconditional surrender, in occupation of their country by Allied troops for many years, in reparations for the damage their armies have done—and in the huge German casualty list and the destruction which war has brought.

I think we are entitled to hope that the German people may be reformed over a long period of intensive Allied tutelage. Anyway, it's an experiment the United Nations think worth trying.

Salem China Team Looms Even Stronger In Class A Loop

Have Nearly Full Team To Count On, Plus Appedisian, Cibula and Kappler To Boot

Unseating the Champion Salem China softball team in Class A will be as hard a task this season as it was last.

If you question that statement, just stop and look over the returning China lineup and then take note of the new recruits planning to perform in the orange and black jerseys at Centennial park this summer. Manager John "Joe McCarthy" Ehrhart, veteran mentor of the title-winning Pottery crew, has an array of stars that will make it hot for any pitcher and for most field work experts.

From the team that won 25 of 29 league titles last year and captured the "Little World Series" playoffs in two games by top-sided scores over the runnersup Deming crew, almost the entire personnel is back. Only regulars missing this season will be Byron Mumaw, veteran left fielder, and Razor Eddy, star third baseman, who swatted them at a 203 pace in 1944.

The rest of the starting group, including Dale Ritchie (301), John DeFavero (191), Fred Reese (179), Russ "Batty" Morrison (262), Jim Nocera (188), Dan Kenst (154), Bill Stark (308), John "Tony" Dermotta (101) and Bruce Cope (298).

Ritchie topped all hurlers in the league last year, winning 22 league games and losing three. He set a new win record with a string of 18, which bettered a previous mark of 11 in a row set by Eddie Miller, United Cigar hurler, in 1934.

The China went unbeaten for three rounds last year, only to drop three games in the final round and one in the round playoff. Two of the losses came when Ritchie was not hurling for them.

Manager Ehrhart is confident his team can repeat for the city crown. Besides the frightening array listed above, Ehrhart has managed to pick up three top-notch players from last year's Paxson, Jim's and Sheen outfits, which are not entering teams this season.

Steve "Red" Cibula, a deer-like outfielder, has been signed up to replace Mumaw, who is unable to play this year because of a night shift work job. Cibula clubbed them at a 200 pace last year for Paxsons.

His talents coupled with those of husky Jimmie Appedisian, the loop's leading home run hitter last year (5), should put the China right up there where they were in 1944. Appedisian, besides putting them out of the park more than anyone else, batted 306 last year. He played with Sheen's Monks.

Kappler, older than the other recruits, but a slugger at the plate, tied with Al Cates of Mullins for fourth and fifth places in the batting lineup. He hit 333 in his 1944 season with Jim's.

It is expected that Ehrhart will use Dermotta behind the plate, Ritchie on the mound, Reese at first, DeFavero at second, Morrison at short, Appedisian on third, Cibula in left field, Nocera on roving short, Kenst in center and Stark in right field.

Cope did a lot of catching last season for the Potters and if work allows this season, will probably split the backstop assignment with Dermotta.

All in all, the Pottery crew looms as more powerful than it was last year and with Dale Ritchie's pitching expert fielding and hitting to pace them—they definitely are the team to beat.

No other league outfit is so well equipped in all-around sense and Manager Ehrhart knows that when he says "I don't see how any other squad can measure up to our standard."

INDIANS TROUBLED WITH INJURY JINX
Cullenbine, Reynolds, Manager Boudreau, Several Others, Hurt

CLEVELAND, April 19.—The Cleveland Indians' wigwam smells of amnesia. A badly-swollen left wrist is expected to keep Third Baseman Roy Cullenbine out of the lineup today when the Tribe "maybe" concludes its series with the Chicago White Sox.

Fitcher Allie Reynolds is suffering from an infection of the third finger on his hurling hand. Right-hander Ed Killeman reported yesterday he was having trouble with his left ear and Manager Lou Boudreau and Second Baseman Al Cullenbine have stone bruises on their hands.

Boudreau and Cullenbine expect to play today and if Cullenbine is unable to take the field, youthful Bob Rothel will handle the hot corner. Jim Bagby is scheduled to start on the mound for Cleveland with Bill Dietrich throwing in for Chicago.

Cold and rain forced the teams to postpone their game yesterday.

BREAKS WOMEN'S BOWLING RECORD

A new record, breaking one recently set, was established in the Masonic Women's league last night when Mrs. Ann Akens rolled a top 622 three-game series.

Previous high for the loop in nine years of competition was a 620 posted this season by Mildred Harroff. Mrs. Akens' individual games were 218, 205 and 199.

Stubbers Have New Coach
STUEBENVILLE, April 19.—George K. Hawk, head basketball coach and football line mentor at Ohio Wesleyan university, has accepted appointment as Steubenville High school coach, school officials announced last night.

Silence At Dinner Table Helped Dixie Walker To Batting Title

Corriden Kept Telling Dodgers Dixie He Was the Best Until Finally He Began To Believe It Himself

BY AL VERMEER
NEW YORK — Dixie Walker's worst enemy is the record book, which shows that no National League batting champion has successfully defended his title since Rogers Hornsby last turned the trick 20 years ago.

But the idol of Brooklyn calculates he can foil tradition if he again enjoys the help of those three persons who spurred him to his titular figure of 357 last summer. Those persons, in their order of importance to the outfielder, are:

First, Mrs. Walker, who, realizing that the People's Choice had a chance to win his first batting crown in 17 years, brought him peace of mind by outlasting any mention of baseball over the dinner table.

Never Worried At Home
"When I came home fretful after a bad day, she talked about the weather or women's hats," explains the Birmingham Bomber. "She minded the cooking and the three children, let me tend to the hitting."

Second, red-faced Johnny Corriden, who kept beating into Dixie's mind that he had a chance to emerge winner over Stan Musial of the Cardinals. In each series against the Cardinals, Corriden would tug Walker's sleeve whenever Musial stepped up for batting practice.

"He kept asking me who was the better man, Musial or myself. He wouldn't stop asking until I told him I was better. Finally he got me to believe it," admits Dixie.

Third, of course, was Dixie himself.

SENATOR REVISING RACE COMMISSION

Says All Requests for Track Changes Are Granted, If From Operators

COLUMBUS, April 19.—Virtually all requests of track operators are granted by the State Racing commission, says Sen. Theodore M. Gray (R) of Piqua, who is preparing legislation to revise the commission setup.

Gray added in a statement yesterday that the only time the requests are not granted is when the operators are "fighting among themselves, during which altercation the commission takes a passive or hands-off attitude."

After studying commission records, Gray said "it appears that recommendations of the racing promoters are enacted into commission legislation."

"The commission conducted its meetings in offices of the race tracks on too many occasions," he added.

Gray, who is seeking to increase the state tax on betting and strengthen regulations over horse-racing and betting, commented that no investigation has ever been made of irregularities at tracks, although minutes of commission meetings admitted bad practices existed.

Gray's formal statement also pointed out that commission funds were used to pay a $201 debt of the Cleveland Jockey club after the club filed a petition of bankruptcy.

That the commission had urged Sent. Robert A. Taft to oppose a proposed federal tax of 5 per cent on pari-mutuel betting.

In Lancaster, I. J. Collins, chairman of the commission, said: "The senator is doing a lot of talking. He's making a mountain out of an ant hole."

Manager John ("Joe McCarthy") Ehrhart, veteran mentor of the title-winning Pottery crew, has an array of stars that will make it hot for any pitcher and for most field work experts.

From the team that won 25 of 29 league tilts last year and captured the "Little World Series" playoffs in two games by top-sided scores over the runnersup Deming crew, almost the entire personnel is back. Only regulars missing this season will be Byron Mumaw, veteran left fielder, and Razer Eddy, star third baseman who swatted them at a .203 pace in 1944.

The rest of the starting group, including Dale Ritchie (301), John DeFavero (191), Fred Reese (179), Russ "Batty" Morrison (262), Jim Nocera (188), Dan Kenst (154), Bill Stark (308), John "Tony" Dermotta (101) and Bruce Cope (228).

Ritchie topped all hurlers in the league last year, winning 22 league games and losing three. He set a new record with a string of 18, which bettered a previous mark of 11 in a row set by Eddie Miller, United Clear hurler, in 1934.

The China went unbeaten for three rounds last year, only to drop three games in the final round and one in the round playoff. Two of the losses came when Ritchie was not hurling for them.

Manager Ehrhart is confident his team can repeat for the city crown. Besides the frightening array listed above, Ehrhart has managed to pick up three top-notch players from last year's Paxson, Jim's, and Sheen outfits, which are not entering teams this season.

Steve "Red" Cibula, a deer-like outfielder, has been signed up to replace Mumaw, who is unable to play this year because of a night shift war job. Cibula clubbed .308 at a .200 pace last year for Paxson's.

His talents, coupled with those of husky Jimmie Appedisian, the loop's leading home run hitter last year, (5), should put the China right up where they were in 1944. Appedisian, besides putting them out of the park more than anyone else, batted .306 last year. He played with Sheen's Monks.

Kappler, older than the other recruits, but a slugger at the plate, tied with Al Carlos of Mullins for fourth and fifth places in the batting lineup. He hit .333 in his 1944 season with Jim's.

It is expected that Ehrhart will use Dermotta behind the plate, Ritchie on the mound, Reese at first, DeFavero at second, Morrison at short, Appedisian on third, Cibula in left field, Nocera on roving short, Kenst in center and Stark in right field.

Cope did a lot of catching last season for the Pottery and if work allows this season, will probably split the backstop assignment with Dermotta.

All in all, the Pottery crew looms as more powerful than it was last year and with Dale Ritchie's pitching expert fielding and hitting to pace them—they definitely are the team to beat.

No other league outfit is so well equipped in all-around sense and Manager Ehrhart knows that when he says "I don't see how any other squad can measure up to our standard."

INDIANS TROUBLED WITH INJURY JINX

Cullenbine, Reynolds, Manager Boudreau, Several Others, Hurt

CLEVELAND, April 19.—The Cleveland Indians' wigwag smells of amaranth. A badly swollen left wrist is expected to keep third baseman Roy Cullenbine out of the lineup today when the Tribe (maybe) concludes its series with the Chicago White Sox.

Pitcher Allie Reynolds is suffering from an infection of the third finger on his hurling hand. Right-hander Ed Killeman reported yesterday he was having trouble with his left ear and Manager Lou Boudreau and Second Baseman Al Cihocki have stone bruises on their hands.

Boudreau and Cihocki expect to play today and if Cullenbine is able to take the field, young lefty Bob Rothel will handle the hot corner. Jim Bagby is scheduled to start on the mound for Cleveland with Bill Dietrich throwing 'em in for Chicago.

Cold and rain forced the teams to postpone their game yesterday.

BREAKS WOMEN'S BOWLING RECORD

A new record, breaking one recently set, was established in the Masonic Women's league last night when Mrs. Ann Akens rolled a total 622 three-game series.

Previous high for the loop in nine years of competition was a 620 posted this season by Mildred Harhoff.

Mrs. Akens' individual games were 218, 205 and 199.

STEUENVILLE, April 19.—George K. Hawk, head basketball coach and football line mentor at Ohio Wesleyan university, has accepted appointment as Steuenville High school coach, school officials announced last night.

DIZZY TROUT'S ARM AS VITAL AS EVER IN LEAGUE BATTLE

Pitches Detroit to 11-0 Win Over Hopeful St. Louis Browns Outfit

BY JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer

Dizzy Trout's strong right arm looms as important in the American league scheme of things today as it did last year when the talented Detroit right hander won 27 games in a pennant bid that missed by one game.

Critics who feared Trout might have "burned out" his salary whip in 1944 by overwork, hurling 352 innings in 49 games, got the answer in yesterday's seven-inning shutout of the defending Champion St. Louis Browns.

The dizzy one never was in trouble in the 11-0 victory that ruined St. Louis hopes of breaking away from the field in a running start like their nine straight a year ago.

Steve O'Neill's Bengals clawed five Brownie tossers, including loser Jack Kramer, for 21 blows, four by Jimmy Outlaw and three each by Skeeter Webb, Eddie Mayo and Doc Cramer who batted home six.

Another threat to St. Louis was the New York Yankees' newly-found ability to stage big game-winning innings. The Yanks copped their opener from Boston with a seven-run frame and made it two in a row with a five-run third inning that kayaked Rookie Jim Wilson.

Good Afternoon

Hank Borowy turned in the lowest hit performance of the day when he rationed Boston to five safeties and won 5-2. It was an afternoon of fine pitching, with three shutouts and two other neat jobs in the six games.

Russ Christopher's 1-0 verdict over Washington must have done Connie Mack's heart good. The side-arm inched a toe in spring training and was believed out for a few weeks but he scattered only seven Senator blows over 12 innings.

Kewpie Dick Barrett of the Phillies earned his first decision at Brooklyn's expense, 6-2. Freddy Fitzsimmons' rookies belted Ben Chapman off the hill with a five-run fourth inning. Greenville Hammer, 17-year-old youngster, half of the first brother second base combination, came through with a bases-loaded single to ruin Leo Durocher's strategy of passing Gus Mancuso to get at him.

Van (The New) Mungo had to get relief help from Ace Adams, who received credit for the New York Giants' 8-4 second straight victory over the Boston Braves.

Sport Chatter

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, April 19.—Within the past week football has lost two colorful figures who helped link the days of flying wedges and bushy haircuts to the modern open, speedy game.... When football establishes its hall of fame, the names of Yale's William (Pa) Corbin and Navy's Capt. Charles Macklin likely will be enshrined there.... Capt. Macklin, who died Tuesday, played on the first Navy grid team to oppose the Army in a game whose issue "was the salvation of an athletic development just beginning to make itself felt at West Point.".... Corbin, who passed on a few days before, was a member of Yale's 1888 team, which won 13 games to the scoring tune of 698 to 0.

NAMES TO REMEMBER

The Yale team in which Corbin was center and captain included such great players as Amos Stagg, Charlie Hill, George Woodruff, Pudge Hefelfinger, Bum McClung and Billy Bull.... A few years ago Hefelfinger picked as his best remembered game that 1888 struggle with Princeton when bull's two drop kicks brought a 10-0 victory over a Tiger squad that had Hector Cowan, William George, Snake Ames and Edgar Allan Poe.... According to the custom of that time, "Pa" came back the next year to coach another fine Yale team.... Capt. Macklin was part of the experienced Navy team of 1880 which swamped Cadet Dennis Michie's untamed Cadets, 24-0, as C. R. Enrich called the scoring plays with such orders as "splice the mainbrace" and "let her lift." Army must have learned something about nautical terms before 1890, when Macklin was Navy captain, for the Cadets won then, 32-18.

CLEANING THE CUFF

Gov. Maurice Tobin of Massachusetts, who is 32, was the object of appraisal by scouts when he warmed up on the sidelines before pitching the first ball for Tuesday's Boston opener.... They may try to sign him up to form a Tobin trio with Jim of the Braves and Jack of the Red Sox.

Silence At Dinner Table Helped Dixie Walker To Batting Title

Corriden Kept Telling Dodgers Dixie He Was the Best Until Finally He Began To Believe It Himself

BY AL VERMEER NEW YORK — Dixie Walker's worst enemy is the record book, which shows that no National League batting champion has successfully defended his title since Rogers Hornsby last turned the trick 20 years ago.

But the idol of Brooklyn calculates he can foil tradition if he again enjoys the help of those three persons who spurred him to his titular figure of .357 last summer. Those persons, in their order of importance to the outfielder, are:

First, Mrs. Walker, who, realizing that the People's Choice had a chance to win his first batting crown in 17 years, brought him peace of mind by outlawing any mention of baseball over the dinner table.

Never Worried At Home "When I came home fretful after a bad day, she talked about the weather or women's hats," explains the Birmingham Bomber. "She minded the cooking and the three children, let me tend to the hitting."

Second, red-faced Johnny Corriden, who kept beating into Dixie's mind that he had a chance to emerge winner over Stan Musial of the Cardinals. In each series against the Cardinals, Corriden would tug Walker's sleeve whenever Musial stepped up for batting practice.

"He kept asking me who was the better man, Musial or myself. He wouldn't stop asking until I told him I was better. Finally he got me to believe it," admits Dixie.

Third, of course, was Dixie himself.

Third, of course, was Dixie himself.

SENATOR REVISING RACE COMMISSION

Says All Requests for Track Changes Are Granted, If From Operators

COLUMBUS, April 19.—Virtually all requests of track operators are granted by the State Racing commission, says Gen. Theodore M. Gray (R.) of Piquette, who is preparing legislation to revise the commission setup.

Gray added in a statement yesterday that the only time the requests are not granted is when the operators are "fighting among themselves" during which altercation the commission takes a passive or hands-off attitude.

After studying commission records, Gray said "it appears that recommendations of the racing promoters are enacted into commission legislation."

The commission conducted its meetings in offices of the race tracks on too many occasions," he added.

Gray, who is seeking to increase the state tax on betting and strengthen regulations over horse-racing and betting, commented that no investigation has ever been made of irregularities at tracks, although minutes of commission meetings admitted bad practices existed.

Gray's formal statement also pointed out:

That commission funds were used to pay a $201 debt of the Cleveland Jockey club after the club filed a petition of bankruptcy.

That the commission had urged Sen. Robert A. Taft to oppose a proposed federal tax of 5 per cent on pari-mutuel betting.

In Lancaster, J. J. Collins, chairman of the commission, said: "The senator is doing a lot of talking. He's making a mountain out of an ant hill."

They say he could be a thorough president simply by announcing his candidacy. Dixie Walker would rather be batting champion of the National League.

And with a little help from Mrs. Walker and a few shoves by Johnny Corriden, he may still hold that enviable title when the 1945 race comes to an end.

Even last year, when he hovered at a .450 pace for two months, Walker did not fancy himself a contender until Coach Corriden brought the matter to his attention. That was just before the All-Star game, and when Corriden said it, Dixie promptly fell into a slump.

So he spent those three off days in batting practice, clotting baseballs until his hands blistered. He drove out two hits in the All-Star game. The slump disappeared.

Brooklyn fans are likely to tear down Ebbets Field if the Dodgers ever consider sending Dixie away.

LEAVES FROM A WAR CORRESPONDENT'S NOTEBOOK

by Hal Boyle

WITH THE NINTH ARMORED DIVISION, in Germany — Germany's "Ulcer Guards" are back in action — packing bottles of pills along with their burp guns.

They are nicknamed "the white bread boys," these members of Nazi stomach ailment battalions who have been routed from hospital beds to try to preserve Hitler's vanishing empire.

Ordinarily when they reach the last stages of convalescence they are organized into battalions and given light work in rear areas. They are put on white bread diets.

But the Germans are so short of manpower they are throwing these sick troops into the front lines, along with middle aged civilians and 15 and 16 year old boys.

They don't fight too well. After a light scrap the first stomach ailment battalion promptly yielded 181 prisoners who were glad to get out of the war. Many carried their own medicine—and all the white bread they could grab.

Ninth Armored tanks had ringed one town east of the Rhine, bottling up a Nazi colonel, 14 officers and 190 troops. They wanted to keep on fighting even though surrounded—at least so said the Nazi colonel.

"Give me a two hour truce so I can evacuate civilians from the town and then we will fight on," he said to Lt. Vincent P. McCarthy, a Bronx, New York, Irishman.

"I will give you exactly 20 minutes—to surrender," McCarthy replied.

The enemy colonel looked at his watch. He looked at tanks circling the town with gunners impatiently waiting to fire. In 15 minutes the German commander capitulated.

"You have taken up too much of my time," McCarthy complained as his men rounded up enemy soldiers. "I got some places I want to get to in a hurry."

His tanks rumbled off on the road to Berlin.

The boys who took Remagen bridge and grabbed the first toehold across the Rhine are justifiably cocky over that memorable feat, but they are glad to know the people in America appreciate that they aren't just a one-stunt division.

Corp. Louis P. Pendergast, Danbury, Conn., received a letter from a friend which carried beneath his customary address this notation:

"If he isn't at above address merely forward it to general delivery, Berlin. He will get it as he is with the Ninth armored."

Three German army dobbins attached themselves to the Third Armored field battalion which formerly was a horse outfit, and some of the boys wanted to take them into Berlin and ride them in triumph down Unter Den Linden.

"They kept our pace of 10 miles a day for quite a stretch," said one soldier, and added regretfully, "but finally we had to chase them out of our column and let them go. We rolled 70 miles that day—No march for a horse."

The Swiss confederation is made up of 22 small states.
